

CATHY BROWN

MEMBER

Cathy Brown Director of Governance at The Mead Educational Trust (TMET) Cathy began her career as a mechanical engineer, subsequently a chartered engineer, in industry. She then went on to work in the education-business links sector, providing opportunities for young people to engage with STEM activities and role models. Alongside this, Cathy gained extensive voluntary experience of governance in primary and secondary schools and as an academy trust Trustee. As Director of Governance since 2016 at TMET, a multi-academy trust based in Leicester, Cathy is part of the Trust's executive team and ensures there is effective governance across the Trust. She also delivers governance training on behalf of the Leicester Teaching School, project manages schools joining TMET and is both the Company Secretary and Data Protection Officer. In Cathy's role as a National leader of Governance, she has used her deep and extensive understanding of governance to provide support to schools and trusts across the East Midlands.
